Writing Exercise

Write a story at least three pages long (skipping lines). In this story there will be a man and you need to make up a name for him. Tell how he drives his car to the store. Tell about what he shops for in this store. Tell about something terrible happening to his car while he is shopping, and then tell how he is able to get back home again. There should be 4 paragraphs in this story. You also have to use however and therefore in this story. Do it correctly. Don't forget your topic sentences in each paragraph.
